All afternoon— Ken Ankolvitch

All young kids, older kids and really old kids come see Ken Anklovitch, the old master of balance, quickness and agility perform on the unicycle and walking on the slackline (a 1" wide trampoline). Learn from one of the oldest slackliners in Canada and probably the world. He claims he can walk the slack-line backwards, come see if he really can. Just as unbelievable, at the end of the parade, he has promised to attempt to ride from the General Store to the Co-op - riding his unicycle - completely blind folded. Maybe he's just an old braggart but you won't know for sure if you don't come. Kids - whatever you do don't try any of the stuff he does without lots of practice and plenty of adult supervision. See you there.
